| March 2019 | | | | | 1 Call out words from the dictionary during breakfast. See who can spell them. | 2 Exchange notes instead of talking for part of the day. This also works when things get noisy! |
| 3 Ask your child who his role models are and why. You may learn something new about him. | 4 Discuss the importance of being on time. It's an easy way to show respect for others. | 5 Talk with your child about a mistake you once made and what you did to try to fix it. | 6 Does your child forget to bring home books? Have her post a take-home checklist inside her locker. | 7 Have your child solve silly math problems: "How many hours are there until your birthday?" | 8 Give your child to read. Share your opinions about it. | 9 Encourage your child to volunteer. He can learn more about his community while helping others. |
| 10 Want to improve communication with your child? Be an attentive listener. | 1 Ask your child to imagine life 150 years ago. How about 150 years in the future? | 12 Challenge everyone in your family to learn and use one new word a day. | 13 Index cards are great for studying. The limited space forces students to identify the most important points. | 14 Help your child set priorities when studying. Which assignment is most important? Due first? Most difficult? | 15 Don't label your child (Maddie is the shy one). Kids tend to live up to roles cast for them by their parents. | 16 Make an appointment with your child to do something fun together. Write it on your calendar. |
| 17 Take a walk or enjoy some physical activity with your child. | 18 Ask your child: "Do you think honesty is always the best policy? Why or why not?" | 19 Encourage your child to keep a to-do list. By writing down things he needs to do, he is less likely to forget them. | 20 Start a conversa- tion by noticing nonverbal messages. If your child is smiling, say, "You seem happy." | 21 Encourage your child to listen to music she doesn't normally listen to. | 22 Talk to your child about the difference between goals and dreams . A goal is a dream with a deadline. | 23 Ask your child to record "A day in the life of our family." He can take pictures and write notes. |
| 24 Thank your child when she helps around the house. 31 Encourage your child to draw a self-portrait. | 25 Ask your child to tell you about a punishment you gave him that he thought was really unfair. | 26 Read a poem aloud. Stop to let your child guess what the next rhyming word will be. | 27 Remember that the key to getting your child's respect is showing your child respect. | 28 Ask your child for her opinions. She probably knows things you don't about pop culture, fashion and technology. | 29 Discuss a controversial issue with your child. Ask, "What do you think?" | 30 Suggest your child do a good deed for a neighbor or a teacher. |
